ANNUAL REPORT 2010

Dear Friends of Haiti,

Events occur in our lives that create special meaning for us and for those we love. We mark our calendars to remind us to celebrate, contemplate or memorialize the date. We not only have an indelible mark on the date of January 12, 2010 but this mark is also permanently on our hearts.

The earthquake in Haiti is one of the most tragic events of our times. We were there and we will continue to be there in the days, months and years to come, partnering with our friends on the road to recovery. As some of the very first responders on the ground, along with traveling back to Haiti in both March and June, we felt and saw the magnitude and unprecedented devastation and aftermath of the quake. Traveling together on an uneven, uncertain and definitely broken road will be a challenging walk, and as we have seen in the past year, not a swift one. It is a long journey that we are committed to make with our friends in Haiti. Working together for better access to health-care, especially childhood vaccinations and basic nutrition, will continue to be our goal. Doing the "little" things like providing health packs, cloth diaper packs and new shoes to the children will continue to be important to us.

Haiti's journey to recovery will include both immediate relief and long-term plans, certainly requiring assistance from many sources and working with accountable partners. We at Little by Little are proud to report to you that in 2010, we spent only 3% of our donated funds on administrative expenses. We have disbursed over 50% of our funds received during the year on relief efforts such as tents, tarps, supplies and providing emergency nutrition supplements for children. Purposefully, we have earmarked the remaining 50% of our earthquake relief funds to be spent on long-term recovery.

As one of the many non-governmental organizations (NGO's) on the ground in Haiti, we strive to work together with our partners to ensure that those we serve have access to sustainable livelihoods, food security, education, health care, clean water and proper housing. This philosophy of integrated development works to relieve suffering, give families a more dignified life and it is the humane thing to do. This is the focus of Little by Little. We recognize that there are much larger organizations working on the ground after the earthquake in Haiti and that we can only do our part. For us that means a focus on enhancing maternal/child wellness and collaborating with others to sustain development.

Inspired by Mother Teresa who says, "We can do no big things, only small things with great love," our focus in the recovery effort is to do our part with great love and respect for our friends in Haiti. We thank you for walking alongside us as we strive to do our best, little by little.

With kindness,

Sue Walsh
Founder and Executive Director

2010 Program Highlights

- Little by Little's Team 12 acted as first responders after the earthquake, providing immediate emergency care at a clinic near Gramothe
- $50,000 worth of supplies were shipped to Haiti to help aid organizations with relief efforts
- Little by Little mentored a start up group from New Trier High School in the re-building of a school destroyed in the earthquake in the area of Petite Goave, Haiti
- We partnered with an organization based in Leogone, Haiti to provide nutrition intervention after the earthquake
- Director Sue Walsh published memoirs of Haiti and the earthquake in a recently published book Walking in Broken Shoes
- Little by Little hosted three medical clinics after the earthquake to over 3,000, providing appropriate medication, vitamins, fortified salt, medika mamba (fortified peanut butter used to treat malnutrition) and supplies
- When the cholera epidemic broke out in Haiti, Little by Little transported and donated supplies for cholera treatment

All photos in this annual report except the top three photos on the second page were taken by award-winning photojournalist and friend of Little by Little, Eric Kruszewski.

In January of 2011, Eric traveled to Gramothe, Haiti alongside our Little by Little Medical Team to document the villagers' lives one year after the devastating earthquake that rocked the country. View more of Eric's work on his website, www.erickruszewski.com.
